On Monday, January 28th, the FBLA club of Kittatinny Regional High School volunteered at O.S.C.A.R, the local animal shelter, assisting with the cleaning and organizing of the kennel as well as providing a little TLC for the animals in their care. The group members that attended were President Theodora Eaton, Vice President Cameron Tidaback, Treasurer Kyle Szuszkowski, Webmaster Angel Bernales, and Reporter Tori Frisbie.

As part of the FBLA mission, its members participate in various community service events. O.S.C.A.R. is a non-profit animal rescue organization located in Sparta, New Jersey that saves dogs and cats from desperate situations and provides the loving care they deserve. To help assist with the organization, the FBLA members did activities such as vacuuming and mopping the floors, cleaning the inside of each of the dogs' living spaces, filling food/water containers, and more. The best part was spending time and providing tender loving care to the animals. The group members had a blast helping their furry friends and would gladly volunteer again!
