

Kittatinny Teacher Wins at NJ State Fair

Mr. Dan Chamberlin won the Committee's Choice Award in the adult amateur competition at the New Jersey State fair. His picture captures a quiet moment at home when a beloved pet nestles into the back of their owner. For those of you who know our teachers, you may recognize his model as Mrs. Chamberlin the former Ms. Heidi Meakin!

To top it off, Mr. Chamberlin is a science teacher. Usually snakes and other critters, not paints and canvas, surround him. Kittatinny has long been known for its phenomenal arts program. Apparently, it is inspiring our teachers as well as our students to great heights.

Congratulations, Mr. Chamberlin. We look forward to seeing more of your hidden artistic talent in the future.
