

KRHS Teacher is Honored in a Student's Essay

The Trenton Thunder baseball team and the NJEA sponsored an essay contest called “My hero works at school.” Channing Infinito hit one out of the park when he penned an essay about his English teacher Mr. Zachary Goldstein. In his essay he wrote, “Mr. Goldstein is a teacher that stands out above the rest and revolutionizes the way English should be taught. Mr. Goldstein is a teacher who is superior in many different ways, more ways than two-hundred and fifty words can tell.”

He continued by writing Mr. Goldstein is “understanding,” and he “treats students with respect.” Channing states that his english teacher “can make almost any student want to learn in his class.”

For being one of the winners’ of the contest, Channing, Mr. Goldstein, and their families were invited to a Miner’s game to celebrate. Thank you to Channing for making the time to recognize a very special and talented teacher.

“It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.”

~ Albert Einstein